

Purpose

The Matanuska-Susitna Borough School District (MSBSD) recognizes the significant impact that individual educators have to student learning. Accordingly, the performance evaluation of certificated personnel is essential to achieving the education goals of the district. The purpose of evaluation, however, is far greater than assessing performance or tracking data. It is fundamentally about improvement. The program of evaluation will provide a process that encourages principals, administrators, teachers and staff to work together to promote professional excellence and improve the quality of instructional and professional practices, and facilitate student learning and growth.

Information collected through the evaluation process will be used for individual purposes and to inform certain decisions regarding our educational system. Organizational change or improvement requires focused attention and cohesive action. Aligning professional development activities from data gathered through the evaluation tool and monitoring established initiatives through the evaluation process is a logical mechanism for long-term sustainable system wide improvement.

Improvement is often possible through reflection, self-awareness, and informal support; however, the evaluation procedure will also bring structured assistance to employees who need development. These conversations and procedures inform and support a full range of Human Resources Decisions.

The evaluation process will have greater emphasis on recognizing instructional effectiveness. Clearly, there are differences between proficient and exemplary teachers and identifying exceptional practice is an important part of this system; it provides a context for describing and discussing excellence. This will allow for not only celebrating stellar professional practice but also providing opportunity for observing and emulating these great examples.

Continuous improvement, reflection, and revision are a recognized part of any evaluation system's health over time. This plan and handbook will be reviewed on a regular basis based and updated on feedback from all stakeholder groups to ensure the process meets the needs of participants.

Authority and Access

All evaluation documents including supervisory notes, information from students, parents, staff, and community members, and related information used in preparing the evaluations are not public records and not subject to disclosure under AS 40.25. However, the individual who is the subject of the evaluation is entitled to a copy of the information. Unless mutually agreed upon otherwise by both the person evaluated and the school board (or its designee), no portion of an evaluation may be made public except as evidence in a proceeding relative to an evaluated person's certification or employment, or as otherwise allowed or required by a court of law as specified by 4 AAC 19.040(d).

The Superintendent or designee shall approve access to evaluations on a "need to know" basis. Responsibility for control, access, and confidentiality rests with the Superintendent. Each employee and his/her identified representative, who has the employee's written permission, may have access to his/her own personnel file.

Only individuals who hold a current valid Type B Alaska Administrative Certificate, are employed by the District as an administrator, and have completed the required training may evaluate certificated staff. The authority to evaluate certificated employees may be delegated by the Superintendent to appropriate administrative staff.

Consistent with Board Policy 4112.8 and 4112.9 no administrator will be permitted to conduct the evaluation of a member of the same family or of a person for which he/she is in a consensual relationship. Where a conflict of interest exists such as mentioned above, an alternate unrelated evaluator shall perform the observation and other evaluative tasks. The evaluator will also disregard input from staff or other stakeholders from a member of an employee's same family or household or participant in a consensual relationship.

Criteria

Even the most robust evaluation process will breakdown if the criteria by which employees are measured lack relevance and clarity. To ensure the evaluation was based on clear and rigorous criteria as well as maintain compliance with state law and regulation, the District underwent a thorough review of the three most widely recognized teacher evaluation frameworks. These frameworks were reviewed by a committee of teachers, administrators, and District officials. After careful consideration the committee selected Danielson, C (2007). Enhancing professional practice : a framework for teaching. Alexandria, VA : Association for Supervision and Curriculum Development, 2007. The framework is a definition of what good teaching looks like and defines what teachers should know and be able to do in the exercise of their profession. The rubrics provide a common language among professionals in the education field to ease conversations. Listed below are the 22 components that are defined for teaching in the framework. For all other evaluation groups the framework components can be found in the Appendix, at the end of this handbook.

“So what is good teaching? If you were to walk into a classroom right now, what might you see or hear there that would convince you that you’re in the presence of an expert teacher? That is, what would make you think ‘If I had a child this age I’d want them in this room?’”

~Charlotte Danielson

ALIGNMENT WITH STATE CONTENT STANDARDS

Since 1996, Alaska has had content and performance standards for teachers. The content standards are outlined in 4 AAC 04.200(b) and reflect the highest abilities and qualities of the education profession. These standards are required to be the basis for the District's evaluation system in accordance with AS 14.20.149. Missing in these standards, are specific descriptions and evaluative criteria with a developed scale and rubric by which evaluators may base their assessments. To account for the use of the required standards as well as the need for more specific criteria the District has aligned the adopted Danielson Framework with the established Alaska Standards. The framework may then be viewed as a mechanism for more effectively defining and describing the current standards.

In addition, references to the standards are found throughout the relevant evaluation and education regulations. As a result, the district must ensure compliance with the various provisions by aligning the framework adequately with the State's content and performance standards. The alignment for teachers is provided on the following page. For all other evaluation groups no alignment was completed because Alaska content standards did not exist.

REQUIRED COMPONENTS

As the Evaluation Advisory Committee reviewed the 22 components identified in the framework, concerns arose regarding the number of components which made up the framework. It was through these conversations that a decision was reached to identify ten required components on which all teachers would be evaluated. This decision in no way lessens the importance of the remaining components, nor does it invalidate the framework as a whole. The framework in its simplest form represents a description of exceptional teaching and a clear explanation of performance expectations. At the conclusion of the first pilot year, the District added two required components for teachers at the recommendation of various evaluation users. This brought the required components up to 12 for this evaluation group. All other groups remained at ten required components.

By only requiring a narrowed set of required components the committee accomplished the implementation, at least in the initial years, of a manageable set of expectations which teachers and administrators could focus their attention. The remaining components continue to be listed on all documents and can be selected by administrators for inclusion in the evaluation of individuals or groups. The committee agreed that valuable language existed in all of the 22 components and though the required components cover the key areas for all professionals more specific language may exist in the non-required that provide valuable insights and more appropriate descriptors in certain situations. Other certified teachers that are not classified as teachers will be evaluated on ten required components and the remaining 12 will be considered non-required.

Below are the 12 required components for teachers. The required components for other evaluation areas can be found on the forms that have been developed for those groups. Required components are identified on the various evaluation forms as either bold font or grey shading. For all other evaluation groups the required components can be found in the Appendix at the end of this handbook.

12 Required Components

Domain 1: Planning and Preparation	1b. Knowledge of students 1e. Designing coherent instruction 1f. Designing student assessments
Domain 2: The Classroom Environment	2a. Creating an environment of respect and rapport 2c. Managing classroom procedures 2d. Managing student behavior
Domain 3: Instruction	3b. Using questioning and discussion techniques 3c. Engaging students in learning 3d. Using assessment in instruction
Domain 4: Professional Responsibilities	4b. Maintaining accurate records 4c. Communicating with families 4f. Showing professionalism

CULTURAL STANDARDS

In evaluating staff, administrators will also consider the cultural standards listed below. Rather than develop a secondary tool for measuring performance on the cultural standards alone, each of the required standards was aligned with Danielson Framework. This allows for assessment and consideration of the cultural standards by directly embedding the expectations within the framework. Each of the four cultural standards has one or two required framework components which adequately describe the intended behavior or expectation. The alignment for the teacher evaluation group is listed below. For all other evaluation groups the cultural standards alignment can be found in the Appendix at the end of this handbook.

Cultural Standards	Corresponding Component
A culturally-responsive educator:
Incorporates local ways of knowing and teaching in the educator's work;	1b. Demonstrating knowledge of students
Uses the local environment and community resources on a regular basis to link what the educator is teaching to the everyday lives of the students;	1e. Designing coherent instruction
	3c. Engaging Students in learning
Works closely with parents to achieve a high level of complimentary educational expectations between home and school;	4c. Communicating with families
	2a. Creating an environment of respect and rapport
Recognizes the full educational potential of each student and provides the challenges necessary for the student to achieve that potential.	1e. Designing coherent instruction
	4f. Showing professionalism

STANDARDS FOR STUDENT LEARNING

Effective July 1, 2016 the District is required to adopt for all teachers, excluding related service providers, standards for performance based on student learning data. These standards will be required to be included in an educators overall rating determination. Student Learning Data ratings will be determined based on the below rubric.

Scoring
Exemplary (4): More than 85% of students met their target	Proficient (3): Between 65% and 85% of students met their target	Basic (2): Between 40% and 64% of students met their target	Unsatisfactory (1): Fewer than 40% of students met their target

Districts are further required to pilot the use of student learning data during the 2015-2016 school year. MSBSD will be incorporating student learning data through the development of Student Learning Objectives (SLOs). An SLO is a measureable, long-term academic goal informed by available data that a teacher or teacher team sets at the beginning of the year for all students or for a subgroup of students. For the 2015-2016 school year, SLOs will be submitted as artifacts and reviewed as part of the evaluation process. SLOs will not be used to determine the overall rating during this pilot year. Committees of teachers have developed sample and draft SLOs for most functional teaching areas to assist teachers and administrators. SLOs should be collaboratively written with input from teachers and administrators, however administrators have final authority to approve and determine the SLO specifics.

Training

Effective evaluation system must include proper training for both professional practitioners and evaluating administrators. Understanding procedures, evaluation requirements, criteria, and expectations for which all shall be evaluated is required for the evaluation system to be effectively implemented. Training provided to administrators must also incorporate a mechanism which assures consistency in the ratings as applied by various evaluating administrator or inter-rater reliability. For example professional practice rated as exemplary by one evaluator should be rated as exemplary by all other evaluators.

NEW HIRES

All new hires will receive training on the evaluation process and receive an electronic copy of the evaluation handbook as part of new employee orientation. Training will include a review of the procedural steps which are required to be completed, the 12 or 10 required components, and the OASYS evaluation management software system. All training templates will be available on the district's website for review and reference.

ALL STAFF

Annual evaluation training will be provided to all staff at their school site. Training will focus on a detailed review the procedures of the evaluation process. To ensure consistent training is provided and available to all staff this review will be provided by the District via webinar. A recording of the annual training will also be available to review on the District's website.

NEW ADMINISTRATORS

New administrators will be required to complete and pass the Teach Scape training modules prior to beginning any work on the evaluation process with staff. All new administrative hires will also receive training on the evaluation process and receive an electronic copy of the evaluation handbook.

RETURNING ADMINISTRATORS

All returning administrators will be required to attend annual evaluation training which will minimally consist of a review of the procedural steps and rating calibration to strengthen inter-rater reliability. In addition, all evaluation ratings will be reviewed and assessed annually to monitor individual principal ratings consistent with their peer group.

Focused Learning Team curriculum has been developed and is available for supplemental professional development on the framework for teaching. Additional training regarding the procedural evaluation requirements can be requested from the Human Resources Department.

Employee Evaluation Groups

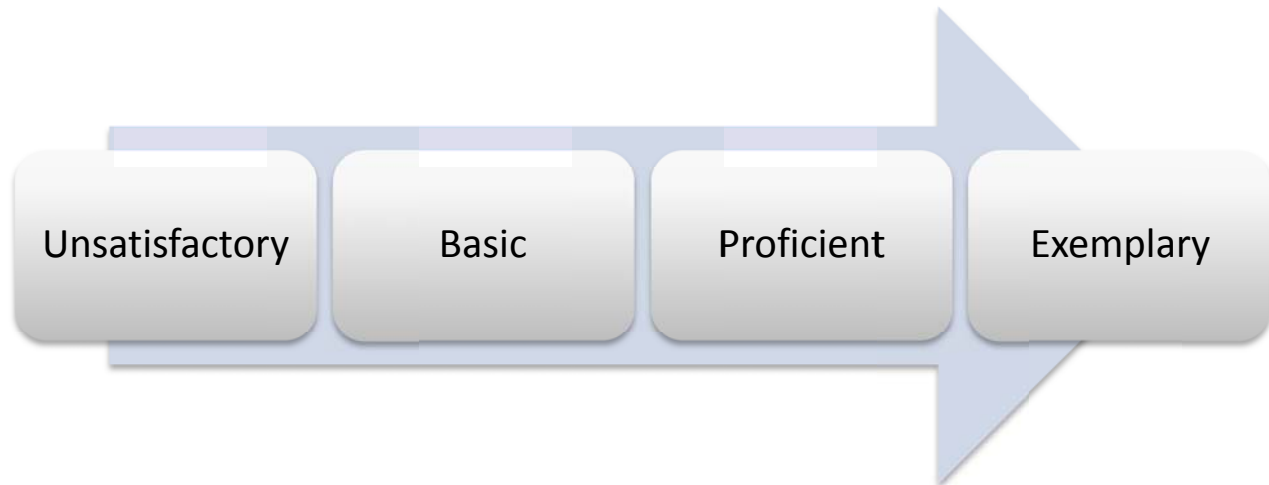

Though a large majority of MSBSD certified staff are classroom teachers there are a variety of positions which support directly the education process and student learning but whose job responsibilities and professional expectations differ greatly from those of a classroom teacher. It is important that alternative components and rubrics exist to drive the evaluations for those other categories of staff. Seven separate categories were identified to appropriately categories our current position types. The components and rubrics for the groups were developed by a cross section of staff and service providers in the identified areas. As mentioned previously, these seven groups will be evaluated on ten required components and the remaining 12 will provide insight and more appropriate descriptors in certain situations.

The core principals, rating system and evaluation procedures are the same for all groups. The only difference is found in the specific performance expectations as defined by the domains and components. Working groups comprised of current staff working in the functional areas identified below were formed to review the components and rubrics for each.

Evaluation Category Group	MSBSD Current Position Examples
Teacher	Teachers in Regular Education, Special Education, Music, Art, Physical Ed. etc.
Instructional Specialist	Instructional Coaches, ELL Teachers, TOSAs, Resource Specialists, Athletic Directors, Correspondence Teachers.
Library Media Specialist	School Librarians and Media Specialists
School Counselors	School Counselors
School Nurse	School Nurse
School Psychologist	School Psychologists
Therapeutic Specialist	Occupations Therapists, Physical Therapists, Speech/Language Pathologists, Audiologist

Rating System

Each component to be evaluated will be rated consistent with the levels below. Component ratings will determine the Domain rating and Domain Ratings will determine the Overall Rating. Component rating will also drive the level of support determination as described in more detail in the next section.

THE RATING LEVELS DEFINED

Unsatisfactory: Professional practice at the Unsatisfactory Level shows evidence of not understanding the concepts underlying individual components of the Framework. This level of practice is ineffective and inefficient and may represent practice that is harmful to student learning progress, the professional learning environment or individual teaching practice. This level requires immediate intervention.

Basic: Professional practice at the Basic Level shows evidence of knowledge and skills of the Framework required to practice, but performance is inconsistent over a period of time due to lack of experience, expertise, and/or commitment. This level may be considered minimally competent for staff early in their careers but insufficient for more experienced teachers. This level requires specific support at both the non-tenured and tenured level of teaching.

Proficient: Professional practice at the Proficient level shows evidence of thorough knowledge of all aspects of the profession. This is successful, accomplished, professional and effective practice. Teachers at this level thoroughly know academic content and curriculum design/development, their students, and have a wide range of professional practices and approaches. Teaching at this level utilizes a broad repertoire of strategies and activities to support student learning. At this level, teaching is strengthened and expanded through purposeful, collaborative sharing, learning with colleagues, ongoing self-reflection and ongoing professional improvement.

Exemplary: Professional practice at the Exemplary level is that of a master professional whose practices operate at the qualitatively different level from those of other professional peers. Teaching practice at this level shows evidence of learning that is student directed, where students assume responsibility for their learning by making substantial contributions throughout the instructional process. Ongoing, reflective teaching is demonstrated through the highest level of expertise and commitment to all students' learning, professional growth, and collaborative leadership.

LEVEL OF SUPPORT DETERMINATION

Structured support for the improvement of professional practices is a key component of the evaluation process. However, it is understood that the level and type of support is different for educators based on their rating. The following guidelines and requirements are in place to provide structured support consistently across the district and all professional areas. Level of support determinations are made at the discretion of the unit administrator or evaluator consistent with the guidelines provided in this handbook. For details regarding the Plan for Professional Growth/Plan of Improvement requirements see the sections with those headers later in this handbook.

Plan for Professional Growth – an educator should be placed on a Plan for Professional Growth when two or more components are rated “basic” an no component is rated as “unsatisfactory.” An educator may be placed on a Plan for Professional Growth if no component is rated “unsatisfactory” and at least one component is rated “basic.”

Plan of Improvement – an educator will be placed on a Plan of Improvement if any required component is rated “unsatisfactory,” or if at the conclusion of a plan for professional growth the educator continues to be rated as “basic” in any component.

EVALUATION WAIVER

A tenured employee who after their fifth year of employment receives a rating of “exemplary” in at least one component with no components rated below proficient will be considered to have exceeded the District’s performance standards and will be eligible to be evaluated once every two years. To continue to be eligible the employee must have achieved a rating of “exemplary” on at least one component with no components rated below proficient on their most recent evaluation. No later than October 30th of the skip year, the employee must complete and submit the Evaluation Waiver Form. The decision to use the evaluation waiver requires the mutual consent of both the educator and the evaluating administrator, upon the request of the either party an annual evaluation must be completed.

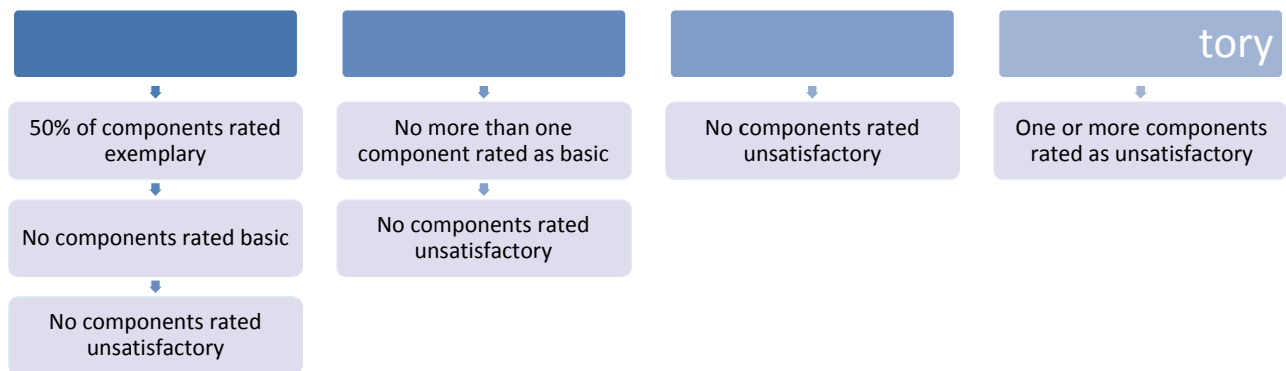

Rating Determinations

In addition to the individual component rating which is required under regulation, an employee will also receive an overall rating which summarizes overall performance. During the 2015-2016 school year the overall rating determination will not include standards for performance based on student learning data.

The overall rating for the 2015-2016 school year will use domain ratings to establish the overall rating. The following operating principals will apply when determining the domain and overall ratings.

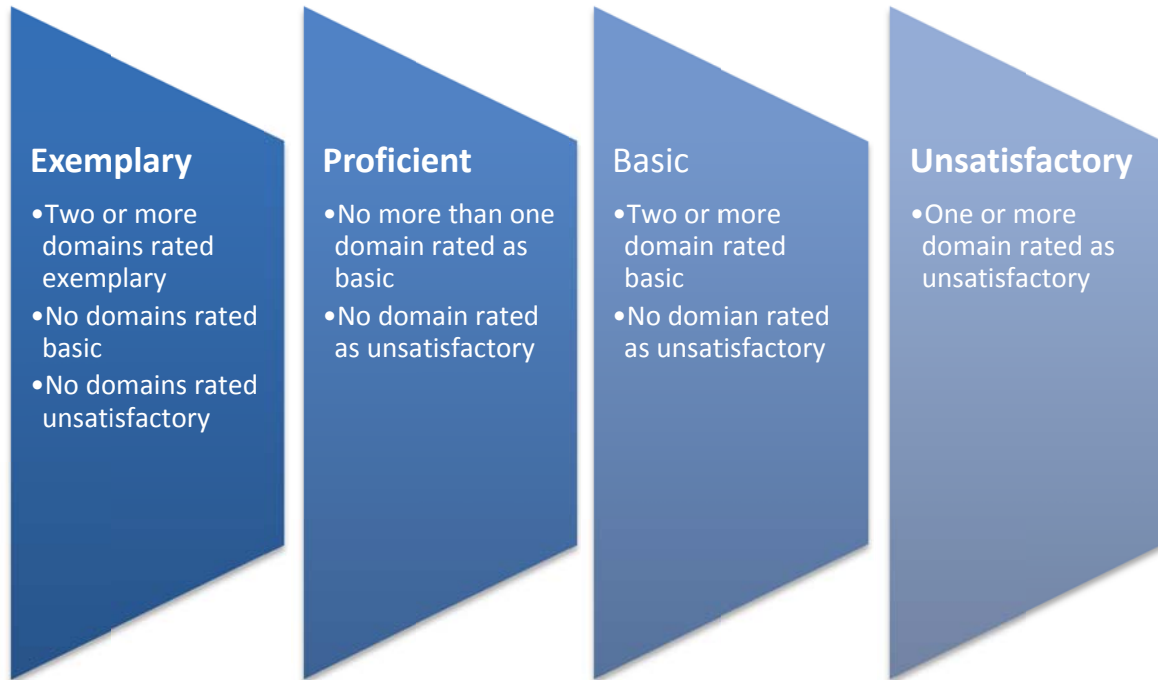

Domain ratings are determined based on each component rating within the domain. Non-required components which are rated should be included when compiling the domain rating.

Domain Rating Guidelines

Overall Rating Guidelines

The overall rating is determined using each of the previously determined domain ratings. Overall ratings will be made consistent with the below criteria.

Stakeholder Input

Opportunities shall be provided for community member, parents, students, and staff to give information about a teacher's performance.

Information needs to relate to the established performance components. The following forms are available for this purpose:

1. Community/Staff Survey of Teacher Performance
2. Community/Parent Survey of Principal/Administrator Performance
3. Parent Survey of Teacher Performance
4. Staff Survey of Principal/Administrator Performance
5. Student Survey of Teachers – Grades 6-12
6. Student Survey of Teachers – Grades 4-6
7. Student Survey of Teachers – Grades K-4
8. Student Survey of Administrator Performance

If the information is to be considered as input into the current year evaluation, these forms must be signed and received in the office of the supervisor no later than February 1st. Student forms will not require a signature and may still be considered as part of the evaluation. All student forms which are used as part of the evaluation will be provided to the teacher. These forms will be available at each school and at the Administration Building.

Forms shall be returned to the appropriate party as specified on each form. Unsigned forms shall be used for feedback only. They will be given to the employee and not retained or used as input into the evaluation by the principal/administrator. Signed forms will be considered as input into the employee's current year evaluation, if received by February 1 otherwise the information will be considered as input into the next year's evaluation. Unsigned forms should be returned to the employee's supervisor. Surveys of performance, which are signed are to be maintained by the immediate supervisor at the school for a minimum of two years, after which the form(s) may be destroyed. These forms will not become part of the employee's personnel file, unless the feedback is used as input into a plan of improvement or a non-retention.

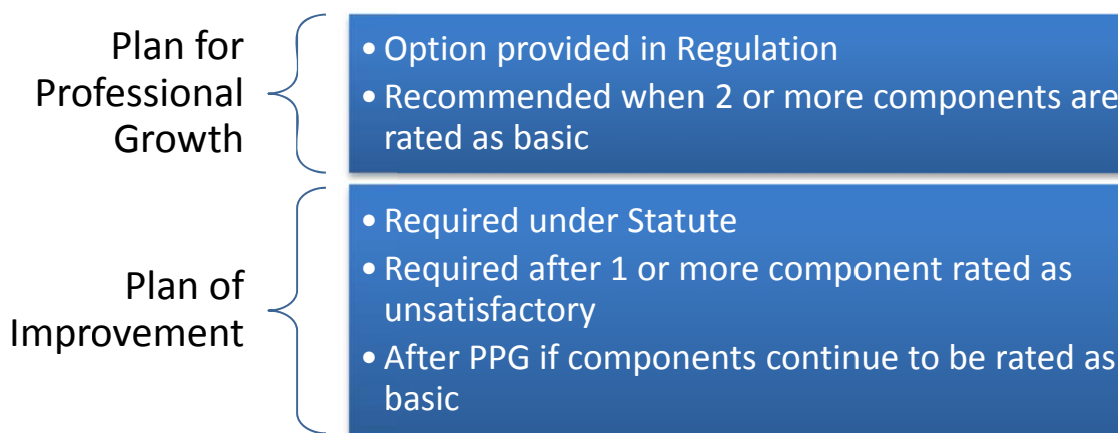

Building administrators will ensure that appropriate notification is made to staff, parents, community, and students about the availability of these forms. There are many different and varied opportunities to notify parent/community members, students, and staff about the survey opportunities. The following list is not exhaustive, but includes suggestions:

1. Notify parents and students through the employee handbook or other school publications.
2. Notify parents/community members through the school newsletter in October, November, December, and January that the forms are available at the school or at the Administrative Building. These forms should be returned to the building administrative secretary no later than February 1. The administrative secretary will forward signed forms to the employee's supervisor and unsigned forms to the employee.
3. Notify teachers at staff meetings that the optional principal survey forms are available at the school or at the Administrative Building. These forms should be returned to the building administrative secretary no later than February 1. The administrative secretary will forward signed forms to the employee's supervisor and unsigned forms to the employee.
4. Notify students through student publications that the teacher and principal survey forms are available at the school or at central office. Notify elementary students through the school newsletter October, November, December, and January. Encourage the parents to assist their students with completing the surveys. These forms should be returned to the building administrative secretary no later than February 1. The administrative secretary will forward signed forms to the employee's supervisor and unsigned forms to the employee.

Plan for Professional Growth/Plan of Improvement

There exists two types of structured assistance plans for certified staff: a Plan for Professional Growth and a Plan of Improvement. The purpose of a plan is to document performance concerns and to clearly state what the employee must accomplish to meet the District performance expectations. Though cooperation and recognition that improvement is needed often leader to successful completion, neither party is present to negotiate whether or not the staff member is meeting the accepted performance level for the components; this decision is determined by the evaluating administrator. The guidelines for identifying when to implement a structured assistance plan are based on the level of support determination outlined earlier in this handbook. The requirements and procedures required for each type of plan are provided below.

PLAN FOR PROFESSIONAL GROWTH

A plan of professional growth is recommended for any staff member, tenured or non-tenured, who receives two or more components rated as “basic” but may be implemented for any employee, who receives a rating of “basic” in one or more components when no components are rated as “unsatisfactory,” unless the District will be recommending non-retention of the teacher.

To initiate a plan for professional growth the administrator shall schedule a conference with the teacher to collaboratively develop a plan. The employee may be accompanied by a representative of the Association or a person of his or her choice. The purpose of this conference is to collaboratively develop a plan for professional growth which shall set clear and specific performance expectations and ways in which the staff member’s performance can be improved. The plan shall also provide the timeline to be followed to include scheduled meetings to review progress and specific assistance and support/resources to be provided to the employee. The building administrator retains final authority to determine the various components to be included in the plan.

For tenured staff, the plan for professional growth must last no less than 60 work days and no more than 120 work days, unless shortened by mutual agreement between the administrator and employee. For non-tenured staff, the plan professional growth must last no less than 30 work days. The duration of the plan for professional growth shall be determined by the evaluator.

PLAN OF IMPROVEMENT

A plan of improvement is required to be implemented for any staff member, tenured or non-tenured who received at least one component rating of “unsatisfactory.” However, an administrator may recommend non-retention according to state statute or board policy.

To initiate a plan of improvement, the administrator shall schedule a conference with the staff member to collaboratively develop a plan. The employee may be accompanied by a representative of the Association or a person of his/her choice. The purpose of this conference is to collaboratively develop a plan of improvement which shall set clear and specific performance expectations and ways in which the teacher’s performance can be improved. The plan shall also provide the timeline to be followed and include scheduled meetings to review progress and specific assistance and support/resources to be provided to the teacher. The building administrator retains final authority to determine the various components to be included in the plan.

For tenured teachers, the plan of improvement must last no less than 90 work days and no more than 180 work days, unless shortened by mutual agreement between the administrator and teacher. For non-tenured teachers, the plan of improvement must last no less than 30 work days. The duration of the plan of improvement shall be determined by the evaluator.

Evaluation Procedures

The evaluation process consists of separate steps which culminate in the final summative evaluation.

Self-Assessment: The Self-Assessment Rubric is designed to support staff self-assessment and reflection on professional practice beyond the general global judgments that may occur without intentional and diligent review and analysis. This document will be used as a foundation during the beginning of the year conference and assist both the teacher and administrator in establishing appropriate evaluative focus through the year.

Beginning of the Year Conference: The Beginning of The Year Conference is the evaluation planning meeting which allows for certified staff and administrators to discuss the expectations through the evaluative cycle. Expectations should reflect the anticipated growth in the classroom and identify goals to maximize educator effectiveness. During this meeting the administrator will establish what, if any, components will be evaluated beyond those required. Any artifacts, along with the expectations for when they must be submitted are also outlined at this time. Artifacts and additional components must be identified during the beginning of the year conference in order to be required to be submitted by the educator and to be eligible to be evaluated by the administrator as part of the evaluation cycle. Administrative evidence and artifacts collected during an evaluative cycle (evidence and artifacts not required to be supplied or submitted by the educator) are not required to be identified during the beginning of the year conference.

Artifacts: Artifacts provide evidence of performance on various components of the framework, and are essential for staff to demonstrate their skill in certain areas. The required artifacts will be identified during the beginning of the year conference. The administrator's assessment of submitted artifacts as well as their impact on the components rating will be discussed and reviewed during the summative evaluation conference at the end of the evaluative cycle or during the Mid-Year Review as appropriate.

Informal Observations: Informal observations may include observable behaviors or circumstances outside of the traditional classroom setting (i.e. observing a special education teacher during an IEP meeting.) Informal observations are recommended to last for a duration of between 5 and 15 minutes and may be unannounced. The most common informal observations are classroom walkthroughs. Informal observations must be documented with the dates and times recorded and shared with the educator during the summative conference. It is recommended that written feedback is provided to the educator regarding informal observations as quickly as possible.

Formal Observations: One formal observation is required to be completed during the evaluation. The pre-observation conference form must be completed by the educator and will be reviewed by the evaluating administrator prior to the scheduled observation. The formal observation must be scheduled in advance and must be for a duration of not less than 30 min. Feedback on the formal observation must be provided to the educator within two working days.

Mid-Year Review: The Mid-Year Review Conference will serve as a feedback session for all non-tenured staff. Evaluating administrators will complete the Mid-Year Review Assessment form which will include a compilation of the completed observations and submitted artifacts. The Mid-Year Assessment will be reviewed with the educator during the Mid-Year Review Conference.

Summative Evaluation and Conference: All of the above documents are compiled at the end of the evaluative period to inform the final summative evaluation and will be reviewed with the educator at the summative conference. The educator will be provided a copy of the summative evaluation form which will include a rating of “unsatisfactory,” “basic,” “proficient” or “exemplary” on each of the required components as well as any additional previously identified components. The ratings inform the level of support determination (see Plan for Professional Growth or Plan of Improvement section below for details). Educators are provided with two working days to sign the summative evaluation form (electronically) and a total of five working days (including the two days to sign) to write and submit a written response to the evaluation if desired. If the educator refuses to sign the evaluation, the administrator will note this on the summative form and finalize the evaluation without acknowledgement. Educators who fail to provide a written response within the five day time limit provided forfeit any right to submit a written response. The written response will be forwarded to the supervisor and retained with the final summative evaluation form in the employees personnel file.

NON-TENURED EVALUATION PROCEDURES

All Non-Tenured employees shall be evaluated at least once each year by May 1. Type M Certificate holders who have been employed in the district for a minimum of three years and one day and whose last evaluation did not rate as needing structured support will be evaluated consistent with the tenured evaluation procedures. All rehired retirees will also be evaluated consistent with the tenured evaluation procedures.

- A completed evaluation forms will be submitted through the OASYS and incorporated into the employee’s personnel file.
- All timelines may be extended by mutual agreement.
- All procedural requirements listed above will be completed in full for each evaluation done for non-tenured personnel.
- A minimum of three observations shall be conducted each semester before completing the mid-year review and final summative evaluation, including one formal observation per semester.
