

Adrian Ortiz

(with wife and son)

Step Up Now Presenter

Youth Minister at Creekside Church

www.akstepupnow.org

Adrian Ortiz grew up in Anchorage, Alaska. During his high school and young adult years, he fell into a tough crowd and made some decisions that cost him greatly. Adrian rebounded from that adversity and has rebuilt his life based on the foundation of Christ Jesus as laid out in the Bible. He and his wife have one son, and they enjoy serving their community and especially young people together.

Adrian is currently the youth minister at Creekside Church and is passionate about using his gift of public speaking to empower teenagers with a message that they are valuable and worth making decisions that will allow them to have a healthy and prosperous future.