

CLASSROOM HELP & LINKS

Click Title to visit site

- Promethean Board - This is a list of video tutorials on the promethean board. We recommend starting with the Back to Basics video.
- Homework Help - This site is simple to use and provides a broad range of topics for homework help. There are writing instructions, facts, study skills, and research help available.
- Works Cited - This is a great site for students that need to create a works cited page. It includes MLA, APA, and Chicago Citation styles.
- Science Topics - For students that need information about science topics, this site includes science news, articles and information.
- Discovery Education - This free student resource site has homework help available for multiple subjects as well as interactive games, lesson plans, and step-by-step math help for all age levels.
- SciCentral - If you are interested in finding the latest science research news this site is a good resource. It also offers access to journals, databases, and info about jobs in the science field.
- American Fact Finder - A great source for population, housing, economic, and geographic information.
- Fact Sources - This site lists numerous free information sources for a wide range of topics.
- Special Collections - Information about various topics, geography, biographies, writing guides and much more for multiple ages are available on this site.
- Search Engines - If you are looking for multiple online search venues then this site is a good place to find a list of general search engines.
- Biographies - This site has extensive biographical information available.
- Lesson Plans - There is over 4500 lesson plans options listed on this site that have been submitted by teachers. They are available by subject or grade level.
- Puzzlemaker - Create and print word searches, crossword puzzles, and mazes.
- Newsletter for Substitutes - Signup for a monthly Newsletter provided by the Substitute Teaching Institute. It is a free resource provided to help subs enhance their teaching & classroom management skills.