

7th Grade

Instructional Focus:

Students read and analyze a variety of grade level materials, constructing responses appropriate to the purpose and audience.

Reading Standards for Literature

Standard	Objective	Examples / Inquiry Questions
Key Ideas and Details
RL.7.1 Cite several pieces of textual evidence to support analysis of what the text says explicitly as well as inferences drawn from the text.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Students will cite several pieces of textual evidence to support analysis of what the text says explicitly. Students will make inferences to support analysis of the text. 	Examples: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> Read “Life Without Gravity” by Robert Zimmerman listing the essay’s three important points and one point of evidence for each. Read “A Day’s Wait” by Ernest Hemingway, asking students to look at the clues the author provides regarding character, conflict, and theme. Inquiry Question: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> How does a reader determine the primary message that the author wants interpreted from the passage?
RL.7.2 Determine a theme or central idea of a text and analyze its development over the course of the text; restate and summarize main ideas or events, in correct sequence, after reading a text.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Students will determine a theme or central idea of a text. Students will analyze the development of the theme or central idea over the course of text. Students will restate and summarize the main ideas or events, in correct sequence, after reading a text. 	Examples: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> Read “Bear Boy” by Joseph Bruchac. Students should look at character’s actions and plot events to help students see the author’s message. Continue with “Bear Boy”. The father tries many times to bring back his son. Over time, we see him realize the true nature of being a father. Read “Rikki Tikki Tavi” by Rudyard Kipling. Students can list the important events after reading. Inquiry: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> How does the reader determine the primary message that the author wants interpreted from the passage?
RL.7.3 Analyze how particular elements of a story or drama interact (e.g., how setting shapes the characters or plot).	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Students will analyze how particular elements of a story or drama interact. 	Examples: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> Students read “from Grandpa and the Statue” by Arthur Miller noting how dialogue adds to the message and understanding of the piece. Students should note how the author uses dialogue in a speech instead of a typical address style. Inquiry Question: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> How do author’s appeal to the reader’s emotions and beliefs?
Craft and Structure
RL.7.4 Determine the meaning of words and phrases as they are used in a text, including figurative and connotative meanings; analyze the impact of a specific word choice on meaning and tone.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Students will determine the figurative meaning of words and phrases as they are used in a text. Students will determine the connotative meaning of words and phrases as they are used in a text. Students will analyze the impact of a specific word choice on the tone of text. 	Examples: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> Read “Seventh Grade” by Gary Soto. The story has Latino students who use Spanish words throughout the story. The context clues help the reader figure out the meaning of these unknown words. NMSI Lesson- Connotative Meaning has 4-5 lessons working on understanding the connotative, positive and negative, meanings of various words. For example, students rank a list of words that all define the act of protesting. Read “Kid Territory: Why Do We Need Zoos?” by San Diego Zoo Staff. This editorial is persuasive in nature so have students look at the words that create persuasion. Inquiry Question: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> How do readers know if the text is informing them or trying to persuade them?

RL.7.5 Analyze the overall structure of a text: how a drama’s or poem’s form or structure (e.g. sonnet, soliloquy) contributes to its meaning, including analyzing the impact of rhymes and other repetitions of sounds (e.g., alliteration) on a specific verse or stanza of a poem or section of a story or drama.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Students will analyze the overall structure of a text: how a drama or poem’s form and structure contributes to its meaning. • Students will analyze the impact of sound devices in a poem or section of a story or drama. 	Examples: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Read “Annabel Lee” by Edgar Allan Poe. The repetition and formation of stanzas contributes to the overall meaning. 2. Continue using “Annabel Lee” or Tell Tale Heart” to analyze the impact of sound devices in a poem. Inquiry: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. How do authors appeal the reader’s emotions and beliefs?
RL.7.6 Analyze author’s purpose and how an author establishes and contrasts the points of view of different characters or narrators in a text.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Students will analyze the author’s purpose. • Students will analyze how an author contrasts the points of view of different characters or narrators in a text. 	Examples: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Read “from Letter from Rifka” by Cynthia Ryland and “Two Kinds from The Joy Luck Club” by Amy Tan. These authors write of their personal experiences for different reasons. Analyze their purpose. 2. Continue with above mentioned stories. Using a venn diagram, compare and contrast the authors’ points of view. Inquiry Question: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. How are literary texts similar? How are they different?
Integration of Knowledge and Ideas
RL.7.7 Compare and contrast a written story, drama, or poem to its audio, filmed, staged, or multimedia version, analyzing the effects of techniques unique to each medium (e.g., lighting, sound, color, or camera focus and angles in a film) (e.g., The Incredible Journey, Call of the Wild).	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Students will compare and contrast a written story, drama, or poem to its audio, filmed, staged, or multimedia version. • Students will analyze the effects of techniques unique to each medium (e.g., lighting, sound, color, or camera focus and angles in a film). 	Examples: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Read “from An American Childhood” by Annie Dillard and “The Luckiest Time of All” by Lucille Clifton and compare/contrast the experiences of the two authors. 2. NMSI Materials- “The Miracle Worker” includes an autobiographical story, a poem, and a drama. The drama includes all stage directions which allows students to see how the movements of a play enhance the story.
RL.7.9 Compare and contrast a fictional portrayal of a time, place, or character and a historical or cultural account of the same period as a means of understanding how authors of fiction use or alter history.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Students will compare and contrast a fictional portrayal of a time, place, or character and a historical or cultural account of the same period as a means of understanding how authors of fiction use or alter history. 	Example: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Take a passage from the memoir Night and a passage from the historical fiction book Devil’s Arithmetic and compare how the authors describe their initial experience with the Holocaust. For example, in chapters 2, 3 of Night, Elie Wiesel describes being moved to the ghetto. In Devils’ Arithmetic, the main character has a similar experience after being transported back in time. Inquiry Questions: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Why does point of view matter? How does it contribute to conflict? 2. How can point of view reduce conflict? 3. How do different characters represent different points of view?
Range of Reading and Level of Complexity

Have students read a feature article from the local newspaper. Provide a graphic organizer that allows students to record the main ideas and one piece of evidence to support. 2. After reading the feature article, ask students to infer the author’s purpose. Their textual evidence should support their claim. Inquiry Question: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. How can readers support their opinions from using evidence within texts?
RI.7.2 Determine the central idea and subtopics in a text and analyze their development over the course of the text; restate and summarize the central idea or events, in correct sequence when necessary, after reading a text.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● Students will determine the central idea and subtopics in a text. ● Students will analyze the development of the central idea or subtopics over the course of the text. ● Students will restate and summarize the central ideas or events in correct sequence. 	Examples: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Ask students to bring their science textbook to class. Using chapter one, have students list the central idea of the chapter and the subtopics discussed. This will help students begin to understand information text structure as well as how to understand the way the science text presents the central idea of each chapter. 2. After students list the subtopics, ask them to determine the central idea. 3. When the chapter has been broken down, ask students to write a summary statement of the chapter, including key words from the subtopic headings. Inquiry Question: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. How does a reader determine the primary message that the author wants interpreted from the passage?
RI.7.3 Analyze the interactions between individuals, events, and ideas presented in a text (e.g., how ideas influence individuals or events, or how individuals influence ideas or events).	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● Students will analyze the interactions between individuals, events, and ideas presented in a text. 	Example: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Using an excerpt from “Angela’s Ashes” by Frank McCourt to analyze how the author’s experience in his home influenced him as an adult.

Using Titanic Sinks!... by Barry Denenberg, have students read the first two chapters describing the building of the ship, looking for figurative language. 2. See above, but pull out words from the chapter that have either a positive or negative connotation and have students create an alternate word. 3. Using the Titanic book, read the chapter that discusses the machinery and engine of the ship. Discuss how specific fields and genres have specific language. Also, discuss strategies (context clues) to understand the text specific language. 4. After students have the above chapters, and noted the genre/field specific language, discuss how these words add to the tone of the text.

Writing Standards

Text Types and Purposes

W.7.1 Write arguments to support claims with clear reasons and relevant evidence;

a. Introduce claim(s), acknowledge alternate or opposing claims, and organize the reasons and evidence logically;

b. Support claim(s) with logical reasoning and accurate, relevant evidence, using credible sources and demonstrating an understanding of the topic or text;

c. Use words, phrases, and clauses to create cohesion and clarify the relationships among claim(s), reasons, and evidence;

d. Establish and maintain a formal style;

e. Provide a concluding statement or section that follows from and supports the argument presented.

Students will write argument essays that...

- Introduce claims.
- Acknowledge alternate or opposing claims.
- Support claims with logical reasoning and accurate, relevant evidence.
- Use credible sources.
- Demonstrate understanding of the topic or text.
- Use words, phrases, and clauses to create cohesion and clarify the relationships among claims, reasons, and evidence.
- Establish and maintain a formal style.
- Provide a concluding statement that follows from and supports the argument presented.

Examples:

1. Write an argumentative essay that includes a thesis, supporting ideas and a conclusion.
2. Use model student essays to analyze technique, organization and purpose.

Question Stems:

1. How does a writer's knowledge of their audience and purpose contribute to their writing?
2. How do graphic organizers or planning guides support the writer?
3. How is revising a piece of writing as essential as the initial effort?
4. How can the use of correct vocabulary, grammar, usage, and mechanics add clarity to writing?
5. Why must opinion pieces include the writer's point of view and logically ordered reasons supported by facts and details?
6. How can a writer use his/her influence to persuade readers?

W.7.2 Write informative/explanatory texts to examine a topic and convey ideas, concepts, and information through the selection, organization, and analysis of relevant content;

a. Introduce a topic clearly, previewing what is to follow; organize ideas, concepts, and information, using strategies such as definition, classification, comparison/contrast, and cause/effect; include formatting (e.g., headings), graphics (e.g., charts, tables), and multimedia when useful to aiding comprehension;

b. Develop the topic with relevant facts, definitions,
