Steven has participated in a variety of career interest inventories/assessments/interviews. Results suggest he is most interested in a job where he uses his hands. He doesn't seem to care whether he is outdoors or indoors. He has participated in a work study program which allowed him to explore his interest in welding. He is currently participating in his second year at a welding certification program. He will continue to participate in the welding program and take classes that meet credit requirements and strengthen his core knowledge related to functional
